"Into the Hollow" is the debut EP from Sisters of the Moon. It was recorded and produced by Tomas Skogsberg at Sunlight Studio, mastered by Sverker Widgren at Wing Studios and the cover was created by Tomarum (Art by Christine Linde)

It all started in 2016 when a couple of social misfits met at a funeral and discovered their mutual love for minor chords, monster riffs, melancholia, metaphysics and the moon.

While writing songs for the new band they realized they also shared a love for 90's grunge and combined with Katarina Liljas voice the band soon found their sound. They named themselves Sisters of the Moon and released their debut single "Kallocain" in 2017.

On Walpurgis Night 2020 the first EP from Sisters of the Moon will be released on all digital platforms world-wide. It was recorded at legendary Sunlight Studio together with Tomas Skogsberg.
